Paraguay: Paraguayan security forces have been alerted to resist an armed invasion by exiles in Argentina timed to disrupt the Paraguayan national elections on 10 February.

[redacted] one exile group of some hundreds is deploying along the southeastern border, and another group of unknown size is ranged along the western border.

25X1

An unidentified military unit near Asuncion is said to be planning to revolt and join the invaders.

[redacted] In addition, [redacted] a group of Communist-led guerrillas in the mountains of southeastern Paraguay reportedly plans to attack isolated polling places on election day.

25X1

Argentina has also alerted its military force along the border and has promised to assist the Paraguayan Government in dealing with any invasion attempt.

NOTES

25X1

Burundi-USSR: Burundi's recent decision to establish diplomatic relations with the USSR appears to result mainly from irritation over a recent cutback in Belgian aid and disappointment that other Western aid has not been forthcoming. Burundi will probably also soon establish relations with Czechoslovakia and possibly with Communist China.

25X1

Communist China - Syria: The $8 million economic credit granted to Syria by Communist China on 7 February--the largest extended to any country by Peiping since 1961--will place new strains on Sino-Egyptian relations. The credit is interest-free. Repayment is spaced over a 10-year period and will not begin until 1970.

25X1

Argentina: Anti-Peronist civilian "commandos" and a group of retired military officers may try to overthrow the Guido government after 15 February, [redacted] These groups anticipate extensive Peronist participation in the general elections scheduled for 23 June, and are concerned over the fading presidential prospects of General Pedro Aramburu, who opposes Peron's return. *India: (The resignation of the general secretary of the Indian Communist Party, which will probably be announced next week, results from a factional struggle that has been intensified by the Chinese attack on India. His successor is likely to come from the "right-wing" faction, which advocates supporting Nehru against the Chinese. The fight over a successor will aggravate the split.)
